

JOONAS LAUKIA

Environment Expert (market-based measures)

European Union Aviation Safety Agency, Strategy and Safety Directorate

Joonas works at EASA as an Environmental Expert, focusing specifically on climate change -related topics and market-based measures in particular.

In this position, he is in charge of EASA's activities in the field of carbon pricing mechanisms, including provision of MbM-related technical support to the European Commission and other stakeholders, participation in relevant ICAO working groups and negotiations, oversight of the relevant research projects, as well as supporting the EASA-managed international cooperation projects on environmental protection.

Before joining EASA, Joonas has worked as an Environmental Officer at the ICAO Secretariat and as a Special Advisor for Environment at the Finnish Civil Aviation Authority.